

IHCDA Healthy Homes Resources Program – Lead Hazard Reduction Grant

National Lead Poisoning Prevention Week 2024

The IHCDA Healthy Homes Resources Program receives funding from the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Office of Lead Hazard Control and Healthy Homes.

What do the recipients have to say about the LHR program?

“The contractors kept me informed and made me comfortable with everything.”

“It was absolutely wonderful. I am very thankful and grateful for it.”

“Everyone was absolutely wonderful.”

“We couldn’t be more grateful!”

“We really appreciate and needed the assistance.”

What has been the biggest benefit of participation in the program?

“I am a single mom with five children in the home and four of the children have asthma or upper respiratory disease – the biggest benefit is knowing that my home is healthier.

“My son’s lead levels have dropped and since we have a new baby in the house, we don’t have to worry about that.”

“I never knew there was radon seeping through my home before.”

“I didn’t even know I had lead-based paint and I’ve been here ten years.”

“Being able to protect the house from any damage or further issues.”

“Our home looks great and it feels quite good to know the lead is no longer a problem.”

What would you tell another family considering applying for assistance?

“It’s worth it. It is so worth it just to be able to know what’s going on with your home.”

“Apply. I tell everyone about the program. I share the link and the income guidelines all the time.”

“The program is amazing and I would tell them to be patient while they’re waiting for them to test for the lead and radon. It is absolutely worth it.”

“Just stick with it – even if there are a couple things you have to do.”
