PHA Code: NJ067

MTW Supplement for PHA Fiscal Year Beginning : (MM/DD/YYYY): 4/1/2023

PHA Program Type: Combined

MTW Cohort Number: Landlord Incentives

MTW Supplement Submission Type: Annual Submission

B. MTW Supplement Narrative.

Annually, the Housing Authority of Bergen County (HABC) creates and adopts a Public Housing Authority Annual Plan (PHA Annual Plan) that describes new and ongoing activities that HABC will implement with the federal resources we are awarded. HUD approval is required for the Annual Plan. This supplemental document to our previously approved PHA Annual Plan outlines: the program design and local innovations intended to improve housing and self-sufficiency strategies for low-income families; the activities HABC will implement to improve and incentivize landlord participation; and how these activities and initiatives will be evaluated.

This Supplement outlines the MTW waivers the HABC will implement and the proposed benefits to the Authority or participants for the period from April 1, 2023 through March 31, 2024.

The Housing Authority of Bergen County (HABC) is an HCV only agency and plans on utilizing MTW waivers during this first year that predominantly reduce program operation costs, achieve greater cost effectiveness in federal expenditures and increase housing choice for low-income program participants in our Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program.

- To achieve greater cost effectiveness in federal funding expenditures and promote greater housing choice for program participants HABC will implement higher payment standards.
- To improve cost effectiveness HABC will perform rent reasonableness determination on PBV units that it owns, manages and/or controls.
- To reduce program operation costs, achieve greater cost effectiveness and incentivize families to become economically self-sufficient HABC will delay household annual recertifications.
- To achieve greater cost effectiveness in federal expenditures HABC will reduce or eliminate asset income reporting requirements allowing families to retain more of their income to help lift households out of poverty or transition off housing assistance.
- To improve program cost efficiencies, achieve greater cost effectiveness, and expand and increase housing choice for program participants HABC will implement vacancy loss payments, damage claims, front-end vacancy loss payments and landlord incentives to promote greater participation of current landlords and increase participation of new landlords.
- To increase program cost efficiencies and expand affordable housing units and choice for low-income households the HABC will expand program opportunities and flexibilities with project based vouchers, increasing the program and project caps and increasing contract length.

C. MTW Activities Plan that Housing Authority Of Bergen County Plans to Implement in the Submission Year or Is Currently Implementing

2.a. - Payment Standards- Small Area Fair Market Rents (HCV)

The HABC is a HUD mandated Small Area Fair Market Rent Authority having adopted and implemented policy establishing payment standards by zip code in 2018. Under our MTW status HABC will adopt policy to implement payment standards between 80% and 150% of the SAFMR. Implementation of this policy is to target assistance to households to improve leasing success (80% or greater) in a very tight housing market, with low vacancy rates, and significant contract rent inflation post COVID.

This MTW activity serves the following statutory objectives:

Cost effectiveness

This MTW activity has the following cost implications:

Increased expenditures

An MTW activity may apply to new admissions only, to currently assisted households only, or to both new admissions and currently assisted households.

The MTW activity applies to all assisted households

Based on the Fiscal Year goals listed in the activity's previous Fiscal Year's narrative, provide a description about what has been accomplished or changed during the implementation.

The proposed activity has not been implemented yet. Anticipated program accomplishments during implementation are expected increases in leasing success rate and an increase in the number of new units available to HABC HCV program participants.

This MTW activity requires a Hardship Policy. The Hardship Policy is attached.

Attached Hardship policy applies to:

2.a. - Payment Standards- Small Area Fair Market Rents (HCV);3.b. - Alternative Reexamination Schedule for Households (HCV)}

Bergen County has 70 zip codes each with their own payment standards that can be found at

2.d. - Rent Reasonableness - Third-Party Requirement (HCV)

Activity 2022-01 - Payment Standards and Rent Reasonableness Activity Description

HABC is a HUD mandated Small Area Fair Market Rent authority since 2018. This activity enables HABC to use MTW authority to adopt and implement increased flexibility in payment standards.

• Under MTW HABC will apply the waiver to implement payment standards between 80% and 150% of the SAFMR. Implementation is expected to target assistance to households to improve leasing success in a very tight housing market with low vacancy rates and significant contract rent inflation post COVID. This waiver is expected to increase housing choices for participant families, expand the geographic dispersal of assisted units, deconcentrate locations of assisted units and achieve greater cost effectiveness of program management.

Activity Description

The HABC is authorized to perform rent reasonable determinations on PBV units that it owns, manages, and/or controls.

Metrics/Data Collection

The HABC intends to utilize internal reporting systems to collect and analyze data on the number of households impacted and other relevant information.

Units of Measure – days in housing search, HAP per unit cost (PUC), gross program expenditures, UML utilization rate Baseline – Monthly PUC, Monthly Utilization Rate, Monthly Street Report, Quarterly Zip Code leasing data, Program Expenditure Success Rate, HUD-50058 Submission Data

Benchmark – increase in cost per household, increase in program cost, improved program expenditure success rate, decreased program reserves, increased leasing success, decreased housing search, increased leasing in areas of opportunity.

3.b. - Alternative Reexamination Schedule for Households (HCV)

Activity 2022-02 - HCV Reexamination

Activity Description

This activity allows HABC to waive the requirement to conduct a reexamination of family income and composition at least annually. HABC will delay reexaminations for participating households.

• In an effort to maximize administrative efforts and cost effectiveness HABC will permit fixed income senior (62+ years old) or disabled households to recertify their income every three years and all other households to recertify their income every two years. HABC will permit all wage-earning households one interim adjustment annually, at the request of the household, for loss of income 10% or greater of the gross annual income calculated at the last annual recertification. Implementation of the waiver is expected to achieve greater cost effectiveness, increase household earned income and reduce administrative costs. HABC proposes to simplify the recertification process coupled with a reduction in the frequency of annual re-examinations determining a household's income and portion of rent to incentivize participating households to gain employment. Further, eliminating the need for interim income changes allows families to keep more of their income and ensure rent stability; exceptions to the interim examination procedure are Zero Income Households.

Activity Description

This activity allows HABC to waive the requirement to verify all household members assets at least annually.

• The HABC will allow recertifying households to self-certify assets up to $5,000 annually. Verification of assets, regardless of value, will be completed for all new admissions to established baseline information. These program improvements are expected to improve household income and provide incentive to families to seek gainful employment and increase the share of households moving toward self-sufficiency.

Metrics/Data Collection

The HABC intends to utilize internal reporting systems to collect and analyze data on the number of households impacted and other relevant information.

Units of Measure - staff hours to complete the task, total program costs, cost per household

Baseline – total tenant payment, household earned income,

Benchmark - reduced administrative burden measured by staff time to complete a task, reduced case load per staff member, increased program efficiencies, decreased program errors, increased program cost efficiencies (less overtime).

Moving to Work Supplement Plan 2022 IMPACT ANALYSIS

The Housing Authority of Bergen County is a HUD approved Cohort 4 "Landlord Leasing Incentives" Moving to Work (MTW) agency. Cohort 4 seeks to incentivize and attract new Landlords to participate in the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program. Of the eleven (11) new activities HABC is proposing to implement, two (2) activities require an Impact Analysis.

This written analysis attempts to identify the various impacts of the proposed MTW activity on HABC finances, the affordability of housing costs for affected families, the HABC's waitlist, program termination rate, the HCV program utilization rate, the HABC's ability to meet the MTW statutory goals and requirements, as well as identify the anticipated effect on hardship requests and the protected classes.

The activities HABC proposes to implement requiring impact analysis are:

- Payment Standards between 80%-150% of the Small Area Fair Market Rent (SAFMR); and
- Alternative Reexamination Schedules for HCV Households, including Self Certification of Assets.

ACTIVITY IMPACT

2a. Payment Standards – Small Area Fair Market Rents

The HABC will set HCV program payment standards between 80%-150% of the Small Area Fair Market Rent (SAFMR). Current Non-MTW program payment standards are set between 90%-110% of the SAFMR, though the HABC has a COVID approved waiver to implement payment standards up to 120% of the SAFMR.

Implementing higher payment standards, will initially increase per unit costs (PUC) and increase agency expenditures while significantly improving leasing success and utilization rate, improve agency ability to consistently house applicants on the wait list and enable wait list opening with regularity. In many cases, participant cost will decrease, at least initially. Implementation of the change in payment standard in conjunction with Landlord Leasing Incentives is expected to increase and improve mobility to areas of opportunity, improve apartment quality standards and reduce relocations. These improvements, in conjunction with the HABCs implementation of Landlord Incentives, are expected to improve leasing success, operating expenditures and maximize cost effectiveness of Federal funding.

3B. ALTERNATIVE REEXAMINATION SCHEDULE FOR HCV HOUSEHOLDS

The HABC proposes to conduct annual income reexaminations once every three years for fixed income senior (62+ years old) or disabled households, and all other households to recertify annual income once every two years. In order to effectively manage the program HABC will permit all wage earning households one interim adjustment annually, at the request of the household, for losses of income greater than 10% of the gross annual income calculated at the last annual recertification.

Implementation of the waiver is expected effect agency finances to achieve greater cost efficiencies in program administration and decrease HAP payments overtime. The HABC anticipates affordability of housing costs to increase for participating families, though substantially no change on wait list wait times. Participant terminations are expected to decrease and utilization rates are expected to hold steady. Hardship requests would be expected from households experiencing multiple income losses between reexamination periods.

The proposed activity would give incentives to participating households to increase income potential for the household and become economically self-sufficient. It will also reduce costs and achieve greater cost effectiveness in Federal expenditures, increasing household choice for participants.

Ch. 8 Section 3: RENT REASONABLENESS

8.3.A. OVERVIEW

No HAP contract can be approved until the HABC has determined that the rent for the unit is reasonable. The purpose of the rent reasonableness test is to ensure that a fair rent is paid for each unit rented under the HCV program.

HUD regulations define a reasonable rent as one that does not exceed the rent charged for comparable, unassisted units in the same market area. HUD also requires that owners not charge more for assisted units than for comparable units on the premises. This part explains the method used to determine whether a unit's rent is reasonable.

HABC-owned Units [24 CFR 982.352(b)]

In cases where an HCV family is receiving assistance in a HABC-owned unit, the HABC must ensure impartiality, determine rent reasonableness in accordance with program requirements, and assist the family in negotiating the contract rent when the family requests assistance. An HABC-owned unit is defined as a unit that is owned by the HABC that administers the assistance under the consolidated ACC (including a unit owned by an entity substantially controlled by the HABC). The Assisted Housing Specialist must communicate the results of the rent reasonableness determination to the family and document the comparables utilized in the participant file. Supervisory review and approval of HABC owned PBV units is completed prior to finalization and files undergo Quality Control reviews monthly.

8.3.B. WHEN RENT REASONABLENESS DETERMINATIONS ARE REQUIRED

Owner-initiated Rent Determinations

The HABC must make a rent reasonableness determination at initial occupancy and whenever the owner requests a rent adjustment.

The owner and family first negotiate the rent for a unit. At initial occupancy, the HABC must determine whether the proposed rent is reasonable before a HAP Contract is signed. The owner must not change the rent during the initial lease term. Subsequent requests for rent adjustments must be consistent with the lease between the owner and the family. Rent increases will not be approved unless any failed items identified by the most recent HQS inspection have been corrected.

After the initial occupancy period, the owner may request a rent adjustment annually in conjunction with the annual recertification of the tenant household and accordance with the owner's lease. For rent increase requests after initial lease-up, the HABC may request owners to provide information about the rents charged for other units on the premises, if the premises include more than 4 units. In evaluating the proposed rents in comparison to other units on the premises the HABC will consider unit size and length of tenancy in the other units.

The HABC will determine whether the requested increase is reasonable within 10 business days of receiving the request from the owner. The owner will be notified of the determination in writing.

All rents adjustments will be effective the first of the month following 60 days after the HABC's receipt of the owner's request or on the date specified by the owner, whichever is later.

HABC- and HUD-Initiated Rent Reasonableness Determinations

HUD requires the HABC to make a determination of rent reasonableness (even if the owner has not requested a change) if there is a 5 percent decrease in the Fair Market Rent that goes into effect at least 60 days before the contract anniversary date. HUD also may direct the HABC to make a determination at any other time. The HABC may decide that a new determination of rent reasonableness is needed at any time.

In addition to the instances described above, the HABC will make a determination of rent reasonableness at any time after the initial occupancy period if: (1) the HABC determines that the initial rent reasonableness determination was in error or (2) the HABC determines that the information provided by the owner about the unit or other units on the same premises was incorrect.

8.3.C. HOW COMPARABILITY IS ESTABLISHED

Factors to Consider

HUD requires HABCs to take into consideration the factors listed below when determining rent comparability. The HABC may use these factors to make upward or downward adjustments to the rents of comparison units when the units are not identical to the HCV-assisted unit.

- Location and age
- Unit size including the number of rooms and square footage of rooms
- The type of unit including construction type (e.g., single family, duplex, garden, low-rise, high-rise)
- The quality of the units including the quality of the original construction, maintenance and improvements made
- Amenities, services, and utilities included in the rent

Units that Must Not be Used as Comparables

Comparable units must represent unrestricted market rents. Therefore, units that receive some form of federal, state, or local assistance that imposes rent restrictions cannot be considered comparable units. These include units assisted by HUD through any of the following programs: Section 8 project-based assistance, Section 236 and Section 221(d)(3) Below Market Interest Rate (BMIR) projects, HOME or Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program-assisted units in which the rents are subsidized; units subsidized through federal, state, or local tax credits; units subsidized by the Department of Agriculture rural housing programs, and units that are rent-controlled by local ordinance.

Note: Notice PIH 2011-46, issued August 17, 2011, provides further guidance on the issue of what constitutes an assisted unit.

Rents Charged for Other Units on the Premises

The Request for Tenancy Approval (HUD-52517) requires owners to provide information, on the form itself, about the rent charged for other unassisted comparable units on the premises if the premises include more than 4 units.

By accepting the HABC payment each month the owner certifies that the rent is not more than the rent charged for comparable unassisted units on the premises. If asked to do so, the owner must give the HABC information regarding rents charged for other units on the premises.

8.3.D. HABC RENT REASONABLENESS METHODOLOGY

How Market Data is Collected

The HABC will collect and maintain data on market rents in the HABC's jurisdiction. HABC primary resource for rent reasonableness is the software, GoSection8. Information sources include newspapers, realtors, market surveys, inquiries of owners and other available sources. The data will be maintained by bedroom size and market areas. Market areas may be defined by zip codes, census tract, neighborhood, and identifiable natural or man-made boundaries. The data will be updated on an ongoing basis and rent information that is more than 12 months old will be eliminated from the database.

How Rents are Determined

The rent for a unit proposed for HCV assistance will be compared to the rent charged for comparable units in the same market area. The HABC will develop a range of prices for comparable units by bedroom size within defined market areas. Units proposed for HCV assistance will be compared to the units within this rent range. Because units may be similar, but not exactly like the unit proposed for HCV assistance, the HABC may adjust the range of prices to account for these differences.

The adjustment must reflect the local market. Not all differences in units require adjustments (e.g., the presence or absence of a garbage disposal may not affect the rent in some market areas).

Adjustments may vary by unit type (e.g., a second bathroom may be more valuable in a three-bedroom unit than in a two-bedroom).

The adjustment must reflect the rental value of the difference—not its construction costs (e.g., it might cost $20,000 to put on a new roof, but the new roof might not make any difference in what a tenant would be willing to pay because rental units are presumed to have functioning roofs).

When a comparable project offers rent concessions (e.g., first month rent-free, or reduced rent) reported monthly rents will be adjusted accordingly. For example, if a comparable project reports rents of \$500/month but new tenants receive the first month's rent free, the actual rent for the unit would be calculated as follows:  $$500 \times 11 \text{ months} = 5500/12 \text{ months} = actual monthly rent of $488.}$

The HABC will notify the owner of the rent the HABC can approve based upon its analysis of rents for comparable units. The owner may submit information about other comparable units in the market area. The HABC will confirm the accuracy of the information provided and consider this additional information when making rent determinations. The owner must submit any additional information within 5 business days of the HABC's request for information or the owner's request to submit information.
